FAZtor’s Notes
By Fr. Arnold Zamora

Congratulations again to our Kindergarten and Class of 2018 graduates! We had an early graduation ceremony for our Holy Name School last Friday and we will also end our school year this Thursday, to allow a longer period for our school seismic retrofit. We will start the school year in September after Labor Day.

The actual work of the seismic retrofit will start on May 30th and we ask for your patience and understanding during this time as it might cause some noise and parking issues. More importantly we need your prayers as the project will cost not less than three million dollars. We are using as much of our funds, both parish and school, as we can sacrifice without putting us in financial jeopardy. The Archdiocese has approved our loan of 1.2 million, payable over five years. But for us to complete the whole project in one summer, even with the loan, we would still need $500,000. So, we really need your prayers because we are asking for a miracle. And I do believe in miracles, because there is a God who continuously provides for our needs. I have always trusted in God’s providence.

A Jesuit priest friend of mine always tells me some of the so called “Jesuit Jokes,” like this one:

A man has three sons who entered three different religious orders: the oldest became a Dominican, the second a Franciscan, and the youngest a Jesuit. On his deathbed, the father tells his sons, “I know you all have vows of poverty, but as a sign of your love for me, I want each of you to place one thousand dollars into my casket to be buried with me.”

“Surprise us with what we have not asked for.
And above all…
May the good Lord bless us with what we pray for.
Reward us with what we work for…
Grant us with what we hope for…
Deep Appreciation to our Parish Volunteer Catechists.

BLESSED PENTECOST SUNDAY

REFLECTION:

“Celebrated as the “birthday of the Church, Pentecost is one of the high points of the Liturgical Year. Luke connects the events in the Upper Room with all that has come before. The coming of the Holy Spirit is the climax of the mission of Jesus Christ. The Spirit remains with us, as the great gift to the Christian community. Fire and winds are the Spirit’s symbols of new life to a weary world. These two symbols vibrate with the pulse of God’s presence.”

COME HOLY SPIRIT, FILL THE HEARTS OF YOUR FAITHFUL AND ENKIDLE IN US THE FIRE OF YOUR LOVE!

Thank You to all who collaborated for the celebration of Our Blessed Mother on Mother’s Day, coinciding with the commemoration of the first apparition in Fatima. Heartfelt gratitude to Ester Auren for decorating the statue in the church, to Ricky, Carl and Tony for ushering the children, to Reenu John for crowning Mary with beautiful flowers, to Cres and Cecilia of the Environment Committee for arranging the flowers in front of the statue. To Susan Logan for her faithful and generous attention to our Sunday coffee and donuts hospitality ministry. Last but not least, thanks to Rose Tang for helping coordinate last Sunday’s liturgical celebration. We can always count on you all!

Deep Appreciation to our Parish Volunteer Catechists.

As we end Religious Education program for the Pastoral Year 2017-2018, we thank all our catechists, on behalf of the students and their parents. We thank the following: Hilda Dela Cruz (Coordinator and Confirmation), Reenu John and Cecilia May (Kindergarten and First Grade), Rosvida Uskert (First Holy Communion), Aurora Dayrit (Middle school), George Guim (RCICY), Dee Carbonel ( Substitute teacher), Lina Hidalgo (Receptionist), Jacqueline Tom and Amanda Lee (Assistants).

Recently I considered buying a Bose “sound wave” speaker system. For a small box it gave the best sound reproduction I have ever heard. In comparison to the hi-fi I presently have, its bass notes are strong and true, which gives the music a sense of presence, a foundation upon which the treble rises and falls as the music dictates. This machine allows an exceptional clarity to the sound, so that the composer’s work can be properly heard.

In the Acts of the Apostles today we are told that the crowd who heard the earliest disciples of Jesus understood them in his or her own language. Now that’s clarity! It wasn’t so much the gift of tongues the earliest disciples received as Jesus understood them in his or her own language. Now that’s clarity!

When it comes to listening in the Church today, some people mistake mono for stereo, uniformity for unity. At the first Pentecost, the earliest Christians had no such difficulty; they knew that speaking the same language was not as important as was careful listening to one another.

The early Church was a very complex and diverse community. Like today they had their struggles with one another. Within a few years of the first Pentecost, there were fights between Peter and Paul over Jewish and Gentile converts. There were people who died for the faith and others who betrayed them to the authorities. Some Christians thought they were for Paul or Apollos rather than for Jesus, and still others thought the end of the world was nigh. Through it all, however, the bass notes played: the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

The Second Vatican Council helped us recover the most ancient tradition in our faith, that in various, unexpected, and inculturated ways the Word of God has been present in all peoples, in every culture. We now hold that whenever the Gospel has been proclaimed in a new land, it compliments the best in that culture as well as corrects aspects of any culture which oppress, demean, and diminish the women and men within it.

In this process, what is born between Christ and an individual culture is an inculturated faith, which takes as seriously as the early Church did the context in which our faith is proclaimed and lived.

Pentecost faith holds that while we build our faith on that of the earliest Christians, we cannot make a world community of our own without reference to God, but their efforts ended in great crisis, leading to scattering of the peoples—exactly the opposite of what they had intended. In the Pentecost, God gathers the people around and bestows on them the gifts and fruit of the Holy Spirit to unite all into one body in Christ. In our modern embrace of globalization, it is good to remember that we cannot make a world community of our own without reference to God and the assistance of the gifts and fruits of the Spirit of God.

Let’s pray that this Pentecost Eucharist hones our ears as well as prepares our tongues to clearly receive and proclaim the Gospel. That’s why courage is one of the Holy Spirit’s pre-eminent gifts. We are not allowed to retreat from the world but are sent out to enter into conversation with it, and hear in this dialogue the symphony God is composing here and now between the treble of our daily life over the continuing bass line of Christ’s life, death, and resurrection.

Let’s pray that this Pentecost Eucharist honies our ears as well as prepares our tongues to clearly receive and proclaim the Gospel of Christ in the market places of our own day and age.

LECTIO DIVINA
Read: The Event of Pentecost and the Birth of the Church: the Holy Spirit descends on the apostles who are transformed into the messengers of the Gospel. In the gospel, Jesus promises the Holy Spirit and breathes on the disciples. Paul reminds us that all gifts, ministries, and works are the handiwork of the Holy Spirit with the purpose of producing spiritual fruit in us and making us into one body of Christ.

Reflect: Pentecostal event is the reverse and a corrective of the Tower of Babel event (Gen. 11:1-9). In attempting to build the Tower, humanity took it upon itself the task of unifying the world without any reference to God, but their efforts ended in great crisis, leading to scattering of the peoples—exactly the opposite of what they had intended. In the Pentecost, God gathers the people around and bestows on them the gifts and fruit of the Holy Spirit to unite all into one body in Christ. In our modern embrace of globalization, it is good to remember that we cannot make a world community of our own without reference to God and the assistance of the gifts and fruits of the Spirit of God.

Pray: Pray for the world to pivot itself on God, recognizing His primacy and centrality.

Act: Do a faith-sharing at the family dinner table tonight.

—From Fr. Paulson Veliyannoor, CMF Bible Diary 2018

All Are Sent
Fifty days after Easter Sunday we celebrate the fulfillment of all God’s promises in the feast of Pentecost, a feast that has sometimes been called the birthday of the church. One last time we are reminded that we Christians have received the Holy Spirit, not for our own benefit, but to enable us to follow our Christian vocation.

The centerpiece of the scriptures for Pentecost is the account in Acts of the Apostles of the sending of the Holy Spirit to the disciples. The other readings for this Sunday help us to understand what it means to live out our Christian vocation. Paul’s letter shows us the gifts and fruits that the Holy Spirit gives to us. John’s Gospel reminds us that Jesus has sent all his disciples to share his forgiveness and peace, through the power of the Holy Spirit.
